

THE CONSTITUTION
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

Article I
Section 1

All legislative Powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress of the United States, which shall consist of a Senate and House of Representatives.

Section 2
The House of Representatives shall be composed of Members chosen every second Year by the People of the several States, and the Electors in each State shall have the Qualifications requisite for Electors of the most numerous Branch of the State Legislature.

ARTICLE II

Section 1
The executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his Office during the Term of four Years, and, together with the Vice President, chosen for the same Term, shall have the Honor and the Privilege of being elected for no more than two Terms.

Section 2
The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, and of the Militia of the several States, and he may execute the Laws of the United States, and he may grant Reprieves and Pardons for all Crimes and Misdemeanors except Impeachment.

Section 3
He shall receive such Ambassadors and other public Ministers as may be sent to him by the President of the United States.

Article III

Section 1
The judicial Power shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior Courts as the Congress may from time to time ordain and establish. The Judges, both of the Supreme and inferior Courts, shall hold their Offices during good Behaviour, and shall, at any time during their Continuance in Office, be removed by Impeachment.
